LOCAL.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH-

Service will be held to-morrow in this church at the usual hour.

RAILROAD-

The day train up to Columbia now passes here at 9:55 A.M. We give in another part of the paper the schedule of all passenger trains, both up and down.

TRIAL JUSTICE COURTS-

trial justices have had very little business before them. A few civil cases and one or two of petit larceny sum to note the large decrease of the lat-The wages

Our local is under obligations to Mrs. W. A. Meroney for a fine specimen of vegetables from her garden, among which was a mess of okra, the first that we have seen this year. We make our best bow, and offer Mrs. M. our thanks.

NEW OMNIBUS-

Mr. G. W. Baxter will begin running his new "Bus" to-day, it has been lightness and comfort, and will be a Horace Greely, and Jas. Gordon to a discussion as to their relative pleasant change from the cumbrous Bennett Sr., such enterprise is refreshmerits in handling the Bat and Ball, old "Bus" of the past.

Mr. H. Riggs will please accept thanks from our local for a nice lot of apples of this year's growth. They looked very inviting, but the little ones at home claimed and took possession of them, so we can only record their say so, that "they were very

COTTON BOLL

The first of the senson, as fer as we know, was handed us on Monday last, by Mr. H. Riggs, it is not from some fancy garden patch, but taken from the field. Under the influence of the favorable season we have had so far, A FOUR MILE WALKcotton we learn is well advanced.

EARLY OKRA-

The News and Courier says the first okra of the season was sold in their market Wednesday at twenty-five cents per plate. Orangeburg is entirely ahead of that, it was selling on our streets Monday last at ten cents per quart.

Look at J. Wallace Cannon's new advertisement. Wallace keeps any thing almost that you need, and puts them to you at prices that make you forget the Confederate war, and take you back to the shopping days of 1859. He means business, and if you will only call in there Bill Sain will prove it to you. Go and see,

We see that Mayor Moseley has provided something to kill time with during the long, dull, summer days, in the shape of a light buggie, and a fast mare that he says, can trot around anything in this County, she is a perfeet little beauty, both in her general appearance, and the style with which she moves, and can make "time" seldom seen outside of a race course. We have ridden behind Molly Darling, a id know what she can do.

FINE COTTON-

Mr. F. M. Pooser has shown us several stalks of cotton three feet high, and laden with forms and bolls, which he says is a fair specimen of an eight acre field, upon which no manure has been used. This cotton is from the Anderson seed, and peculiar in its growth. The pods are twin, and each contains two bolls. This is certainly the best cotton we have seen or heard of this year.

The commencement exercises of Mr. Mellichamp's school took place vesterday. Business prevented us from attending, but we learn that the scholars acquitted themsetves well, and in their proficiency exhibited the care and competancy of their teacher's instructions. Mr. Mellichamp's school has carried a large number of pupils through the past term, and we hear only satisfaction expressed on all

We met a few days since, Master John D. Andrews, (son of our Senator,) who has just returned home at the close of the session of his school, where we learn, he has taken a position in his classes that naturally gratifies the pride of a parent in "his boy" and has called from his teachers word of high praise. His absence appears to have done him good, and he returns much the better for his

Again we have to record the death of another good citizen, Mr. Adam L. Crook, who, after a very short illness was seized with an apoplectic fit on Saturday last, which, in a few moments, . put an end to his life. Mr. Crook leaves behind him a record for strict integrity and kindness of heart that points the magnitude of his loss to the community in which he lived

Dr. J. G. Wannamaker & Co. have entered into full possession of their new Drug House one door west of Kohns, and for the great elegance displayed in the building, as well as the As usual, for some time past, the furniture and stock, we challenge any drug store outside of Charleston. We could not see how the Dr. could sell any one bottle of his medicine with up the week's work. It is gratifying out destroying the effect of the happy arrangement of his stock, but he tells us that like 'lies to a funeral," when one goes a dozen comes in its place.

> Senator Thad, C. Andrews, of Orangeburg, was arrested on Friday last, charged with libeling G. A. Neuffer, and gave bail for his appearance.—Barnwell Sentinel June 18 1875.

The above is clipped from the 'Barnwell Sentinel" of 18th June, as the matter occurred only one month ago, it shows a morbid appetite on the part of that paper for fresh news built here with a special view to that takes us back to the days of

> We omitted in our notice of town improvements to call attention to the repairs and changes made by our friend Mentzel in the dwelling recent ly purchased by him on Market street. The house, while undergoing various repairs, has been turned around so as to face upon the street, which is a decided improvement. We learn also that Mr. Mentzel, in connection with Mr. Peel, intend building upon the front lot, soon, a shop for the execution of all wood or iron work necessary for wagons, carriages, &c.

One of our citizens visited Charleston the other day, and returned on the night train, laden with bundles, Buttonholing the Conductor, he got off; "Ven you gits to Orangeburg I gits off mit mine tings." All right said the Conductor, and our friend settled himself for a nap. Passing Orangeburg four miles, the Conductor found him still comfortably snoozing. He was aroused, got off the train and footed it back to town with a load of bundles that it would take two men to carry comfortably.

We are pained to announce the death of Miss Mary E. Street, the sister of our townsman Mr. J. J Street, on Sunday morning last, after a lingering, and painful illness of several years. Miss Street was about Mineteen years of age, and has for years borne her affliction, and at last, faced Death himself, with a beautiful illustration of christian patience, resignation, and faith, that carry a deep feeling of comfort to the hearts of her afflicted family, calmly and gently, without one murmer or doubt, she has passed beyond the vail.

The body was taken to Georges Station and there interred in the Town. We will give a more detailed family burying grounds.

We had the pleasure of welcoming to our sanctum on Thursday.last, Mr. J. Felder Meyers, of the Blackville Sun, and are pleased to hear his cheering account of the rise and progress of the Sun, may the night of it's setting be long delayed. Mr. Meyers looks well and shows evidence of the care taken of him by the Blackvillians. We notice many fine advertisements in the Sun from the merchants of our Town, and learn that their subscription list figures up into the hundreds from this "Burg" and County. .

Mr. Heyward will close the exercises of his school the Orangeburg Acadmy, by a public examination to be held during Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at his residence on Russell Street. The public' generally are invited as well as the patrons of the Acadmy. Owing to recent continued sickness in his family there will be no exhibition, but the proficiency of the scholars will be thoroughly tested in the several studies.

On Monday-will take place examination in Arithmetic, Spelling, Grammar and Geography. On Tuesday-that in Composition, Philosophy, Latin, Greek, French and higher Mathematics.

STORMS-Of all classes and kind have swept with terrific and destructive force over our entire county during the past six months of this our centenniel year, knowing no North, South, East or no matter if they dock me on my sal West. It has time and again, on the ary. I throw the case out of court, and same day, devastated the thickly peopled section of the North, plunged borbood won't be thawed until next through the blooming fields of the August.' South, and burst in its terrible fury upon the prairies of the West, carrying in its train not only destruction to crops, dwellings and animals, but again and again devouring its human victims by the score. Are these storms typical of the coming storms of our second century, or are they only the passing away of the tempests that have swept so terrifically over. our fair land toward the close of our first century.

BASE BALL NOTES-A match game was played at Lewisville on Wednesday last, between the Pioneers" of that -place, and the Lone Star of Fort Motte, resulting in a victory for the former Club, on a score of 28 to 21. This is the first of a series, of three games, and the Lone a fine supper in the evening, where the best of good feeling reigned.

"But Louisville saw another sight, when Thursday brought another fight." The Blue Stockings (colord) of this place, had been invited by the Rattle Snakes (colored) of Lewisville nothing loth, the challenge was at once accepted, and on Thursday last, the Blue Stockings went over to Lewisville, and whipped the Rattle Snakes "out of their skins" in the tune of 30 to 13. This is heavy on the Snakes, but the return game will be played here soon, and the warning from their rattles may prove true yet.

All of the Blue Stockings join in high praise of the bountiful collation prepared for them at Lewisville. TOWN IMPROVEMENTS-

New buildings going up on every side, and the sound of the trowel and hammer is abroad in the land. Besides those buildings; which we have alrendy noticed as having been lately erected, is a handsome two story brick store built by Mrs. McNamara and now very near completion, we believe Mr. C. R. Jones intends ogenpying it with a stock of general merchandize. Mr. D. Louis has the foundation of another brick store laid, adjoining his other one, just finished, and intends pushing it rapidly to has a large two story brick store and ten days before the meeting. To appoint a dwelling well under way and hopes soon to take prosession of it. He intends putting in a large stock of goods in ample time for the fall trade. Mr. W. A. Meroney has raised the frame work for his new hotel and is urging the work foward with the hope of opening it to the public by 1st September next, it will be handsome and commodeous building when finished, with some twenty rooms for the accommodation of guests besides parlors, office &c. This hotel in the hands of such experienced parties as Mr. Meroney and his lady will prove a great benefit and convenience to our description of it when completed.

The Detroit Judge Meets a Tartar.

Mrs. Dane bustled out, full of business, and as she got around in front of the desk she squealed :

'I demand to see the court.'

'Madam,' replied his honor, as he placed his hand upon his heart, 'gaze on me and be happy.'

'What's the charge?' she inquired in a shrill voice, as she turned to him. Disturbing the peace, by fighting with your neighbors.'

'Never did it-no, sir; all a lie. I demand my liberty!' she squealed, danings up and down until her bounetstrings waved in theair like kite tails on a telegraph pole.

'Slowly and gently, madam, and don't keep such a high key,' said his

'Guess I'll talk as I want to; never was 'busd in my life-reg'lar 'spiracy to crush a decent woman!' she shricked, drawing her belt tighter.

'Madam, will you lower your voice?' 'No, I won't.'

'Will you shut up?'

'No-no!'

'Will you allow me to get in a word or two !

'No; I demand my liberty this very minute!' she cried, clawing the air wildly!

'Well, now, you get right out of here,' demanded his honor. 'Turn round and leave the room right off. I vum if I'm going to sit here and he squalled at by an old woman like you, I hope the water pipes in your neigh-

FOOLING THE OLD LADY.-The following story is very good, but rather apocryphal: A young man out west was courting a pretty girl, but her mother would not permit him to stuy after ten o'clock, greatly to his and her daughter's disgust. Last New Year's Day that young man presented the old lady with a patent clock of great beauty and ingenuity. The prospective mother-in-law was greatly pleased, and gave her old clo k to a poor woman who lived in the 'neighborhood. Now that young couple are happy, for this new clock is so construct that it will less three hours between 8 and 10 in the evening, and make it up all right before morning. The old lady watches the clock carefully and cries "Ah m!" as Stars may yet redeem their fortunes, usual when it gets to 10. And yet, Both Clubs, joined in an attack on she says, she can't understand what makes her get so sleepy before 10, and late to get up so bad the next merning.
